MESSAGE FROM PASTOR

REV. SNUDDEN WRITES THAT HE HAS EQUIPMENT FOR OVERSEAS VOYAGE

Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, until recently pastor of the Glendale First Methodist Church, and who enlisted for Y. M. C. A. work abroad, sent a message to friends here in a letter to Arthur G. Lindley. Rev. Snudden says:

Overseas Dept., Y. M. C. A.,
347 Madison Ave., N. Y. City.
Oct. 21st, 1918.

Dear Bro. Lindley:

I am now in the midst of our Y. M. C. A. Conference at Columbia University. There is a possibility that by the end of the week I may be on my way over. This however is not certain. This school is full of soldiers and sailors, some three or four thousand under the student regulations.

It is like a military camp. There have been for several days two French war vessels near us in the river, also some of our own war ships. I saw some steamers with genuine camouflage. They looked like zebras of the sea.

New York is full of soldiers and sailors. I have ready all my equipment for overseas. Yesterday a. m. I went to Beecher's church, Brooklyn, to hear Mr. Hillis. One day last week we had Sherwood Eddy address us.

Remember me to the men. My prayers are with dear old First Church.

Your former pastor and friend,
B. D. SNUDDEN.

BEN DURHAM HERE

Mrs. J. W. Durham of 611 Elk avenue has just been delightedly surprised by the arrival of her sailor son, Ben Durham. She was looking for him in December, when his term of enlistment would expire, but it seems he had just completed a round trip and would not have time to make another, so, as he is enlisted for the period of the war, he was given a thirty-day furlough now and will be here for two or three weeks. The first hint she had of his coming was when he called her up by 'phone and told her he would be with her in a few moments. He has been on the Wauchussets in French and English waters in the transport service since the United States entered the war, and she says his sleeves are covered with eagles and bars and other insignia indicative of rank and honors.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

Reports from the sick members of the Fire Department are much more cheerful this morning. Ed Fairfield is nearly well. Al Steelman will soon be out and Joe Aguilar, who was the worst off of the lot, is better. That the city might be prepared to handle any emergency cases that might arise among citizens who could not be properly cared for elsewhere on account of the overcrowding of hospitals in Glendale and Los Angeles, a portion of Station No. 1 in the Tropic district has been fitted up for an emergency hospital with a nurse in charge. Firemen Steelman and Aguilar are there. While the city fathers hope the epidemic has spent itself, their minds are easier now that they know Glendale is prepared to give good care to all who need it.

REV. NORTON FOR FLOWERS

Rev. C. R. Norton says he wishes his friends all to know that he is first, last and for all time for Montaville Flowers for Congressman from the Ninth District. Rev. Norton says he does not consider that the issue is temperance, as both candidates are temperance men. The issue is statesmanship and he believes that Mr. Flowers will represent this district as a statesman should.

Rev. Norton has lived in Glendale fifteen years, is a retired Methodist clergyman and fought for the Union. He says if he has any influence in the community he wants it thrown on the side which he believes to be right.

TENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Furbeck of 515 South Brand will give a dinner tomorrow (Thursday) evening at the studio in celebration of their tenth wedding anniversary. Mrs. Furbeck promises that the guests will not have to eat on tin dishes, however, and says that Halloween novelties will feature the decorations. Her guest list will include Mrs. Lacoure, Robert Furbeck, Caroline, Mabel and George Bailey from Hollywood. The dinner will be followed by a social evening.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair to night and Thursday. Gentle northeasterly winds.

LOCAL OCCURRENCES

MISS FRANKLIN'S DEATH—MRS.
BARTLETT NAMED VICE-CHAIRMAN RED CROSS

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Franklin of 1425 East California avenue, as announced in the Evening News, have been bereaved by the death of their daughter, Emma Franklin, at the age of 26 years, who was a Red Cross nurse at Camp Cody, New Mexico, and who passed away last Sunday, presumably of influenza, though her parents have not yet received particulars.

Her death is the first break in a family of eight children, consisting of four boys and four girls, viz., Charles and Ralph Franklin of Green Bay, Wisconsin, Ray and Benjamin, who reside here with their father and mother, Evelyn, Grace and Ella Franklin. Ella, who is the twin sister of Emma, took a nurses' training course at the same time with Emma at Madison, Wisconsin, and is now in Mount Vernon, Ohio, in a private hospital. She is expected here Saturday and funeral services will be delayed until after her arrival. It is expected they will take place Monday morning at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors, and interment will be made in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Emma Franklin was born in Abrams, Wisconsin. She came to California with her parents in February, 1917, and nursed in a Long Beach Sanitarium until August of the same year, when she enlisted for army service. Her parents were reluctant to have her do so, and had a premonition they would never see her again when they bade her good-bye the last time. Nevertheless they did not try to dissuade her from what she felt to be her duty.

NEW VICE-CHAIRMAN

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett has been named to fill the office of Acting Vice-Chairman of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter, made vacant by the resignation of Olin Spencer, or until the annual election of officers (postponed on account of the "flu") takes place. She is exceptionally well fitted for the position as she has been identified with the Chapter from its organization as its purchasing agent and thoroughly understands the work that is being carried on.

RED CROSS SHOP MOVES

Mrs. Jack Boettner, Chairman of the Red Cross Shop and also the assistant of Mrs. Bartlett on the Red Cross Christmas Package Committee, reports that the shop is to be moved to the store just north of the Post Office because the office has need of the store where the shop now is. On account of this change and also because a location near the post office is needed for the Christmas Package Committee, the shop will be closed to trade until the last week in November and be used by the committee as headquarters. It will then be opened for the Christmas trade and friends of the Red Cross are asked to remember it while they are doing their Christmas fancy work and make a few extras for the Shop, which has exhausted its stock except a few odds and ends of salvage which will be closed out at the warehouse by the Junior Red Cross Committee. Now that outside activities are cut off by the "flu," everybody will have more time for Christmas work and especially for work for the Red Cross shop. Such contributions can be brought to Mrs. Boettner at the new location and will be carefully taken care of.

PRIVATE HOMER PLANNETTE

Mrs. Rhodora Plannette, County Probation Officer, has just received, to her great relief, a card announcing the safe arrival overseas of her son, Private Homer Plannette, who is a member of Battery A, 4th Trench Mortar Battalion. He was one of the first to enlist from Glendale and is still a mere boy. For more than a year he was in training at Dead Man's Island. From there he was sent to Camp Eustace and then overseas. He has many friends among the Glendale boys.

NEW ASSIGNMENT OF LIEUTENANT STEPHENSON

Mrs. Andrew Stephenson of Central avenue received Tuesday evening a night letter from her son, Lieutenant Dwight Stephenson, dated from Chicago, where he was spending three days with his aunt, Mrs. Kapun, before reporting at the new post to which he has been assigned at Camp Jackson, South Carolina, with a Field Artillery Regiment.

Mrs. Latooey of Los Angeles was the luncheon guest of Mrs. F. W. Furbeck on Tuesday.

PRESIDENT MAY GO ABROAD

RUMOR HAS IT THAT WILSON MAY BREAK ANOTHER
PRECEDENT AND ATTEND PEACE CONFERENCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 30.—Persons close to the president believe he will break another precedent and attend in person the peace conference, whenever and wherever it is held. This report has been going the rounds in diplomatic circles for several days, but has not been officially confirmed.

There is nothing in the constitution to prevent the president going abroad to attend a peace conference, precedent alone establishing the rule that the president shall not leave the country during his term of office.

FRENCH MAKE GOOD PROGRESS

STUBBORN GERMAN RESISTANCE AT VITAL POINTS IS ENCOUNTERED BY FRANCO-AMERICANS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, October 30.—American and French troops attacked this morning northwest of Rethel and at noon today had penetrated deeply into German positions, reaching the thinly defended support line at many points.

Another French army is increasing the pressure at Hannogue road and around St. Sergeux.

The French are in the outskirts of Chateau Porcien and have reached the juncture of the Rethel, Sevigny and Labbaye roads.

The German resistance is stubborn at vital points, showing that he is attempting to hold the allies at approximately their present lines long enough to arrange an armistice.

ITALIAN OFFENSIVE GROWS

AMERICAN TROOPS FROM OHIO CROSS PIAVE IN BIG DRIVE ON AUSTRIAN TROOPS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY AFIELD, October 30.—The Italians have extended their offensive southwest to the Adriatic, increasing the width of the drive to a front of more than 62 miles. They are now pressing forward from the Grappa region to the sea.

At noon today bridgeheads had been established on the eastern bank of the Lower Piave at three points.

The twelfth army after a forced march throughout last night captured Follina and are now threatening the great Austrian base at Vittorio.

Between the Brenta and Treviso the Anglo-Italians are continuing to advance today.

American troops from Ohio crossed the Piave.

The Italians have occupied Conegliano, an important railway center.

The Italian tenth army is using numbers of abandoned Austrian field guns to shell the enemy.

The twelfth army has passed Refronte and is still advancing.

King Victor Emanuel of Italy crossed the Piave with a regiment last night and even the Austrian prisoners joined in the cheering on his arrival.

BUDA PESTH IN STATE OF SIEGE

BLOODY DEMONSTRATION IN STREETS OF CITY YESTER-DAY—ARCHDUKE JOSEPH ATTEMPTS LEADERSHIP

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

AMSTERDAM, October 30.—Archduke Joseph of Austria, a second cousin of Emperor Karl, has issued a proclamation saying that Karl has empowered him to form an independent state in Hungary, according to Buda Pesh dispatches.

Zurich and Copenhagen dispatches today said that yesterday demonstrations occurred hourly in Buda Pesh and much bloody machine gun fighting occurred in the streets.

ZURICH, October 30.—A state of siege has been declared at Buda Pesh after an attempt by a crowd of 100,000 to enter Archduke Joseph's palace.

German troops are reported to be arriving.

NEW PEACE NOTE

GERMANY TELLS PRESIDENT WILSON OF CHANGES BE-ING MADE IN FORM OF GOVERNMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 30.—A supplementary peace note from Germany reached the Swiss legation here today and at noon was delivered to the state department.

It describes what constitutional changes are being made to make the government responsible to the German people. It does not alter the peace situation as it does not contain any new proposals.

It is understood the note was sent voluntarily. It probably will not be published immediately.

The president is reported to be drawing up a reply to the latest Austrian note. This may be published late today. It is expected that this note will merely notify Austria that her note has been referred to the Versailles council.

LIFE IN ITALY

HOW IT LOOKS TO AN AMERICAN
BOY IN A FIELD HOS-PITAL CORPS

The following letter from the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Middlekauff of Cedar street, this city, will be read with interest by readers of this paper, many of whom have relatives in service.

On Active Service with the American Expeditionary Forces

Somewhere in Italy.

August 26, 1918.

Dear Little Sister: Your letter, sent some time ago, just received and I most certainly was glad to hear from home. About writing a real newsy letter—I don't know whether I can get away with it or not, but I'll do my best.

As you know, of course, I left the States some time ago, sailing to England. The people all seemed very glad to see us and gave us quite a reception, while the kids just about mobbed our ranks, begging for souvenirs. We stayed in England for a few days and went to France. France is as different from England as can be. The people have had to suffer from the war and there are none in France who do not work. Even the little girls and boys get out into the fields and help pitch hay. The country is beautiful. Get on a high point of land and you can see miles and miles of farmland and orchards. The roads all over the country are lined with shade trees, making a very beautiful appearance. The streets of the towns are about as wide as our alleys and in the smaller towns are very dirty. The houses are all built of either brick or stone. In either France or Italy I have not as yet seen a frame house. A great many buildings are over a hundred years old. We were stationed in a small town, close to a base of supplies and when we got there we found enough filth and dirt to kill two armies, but it didn't take us long to clean it up.

The people live in one room of the house and have their stable in another. They keep the horses and cows in the same building that they live in. It seemed strange at first, and certainly most unsanitary, but we soon got used to it. After a little more than a month in France, we were ordered to go to Italy. We started about ten o'clock one night and worked until daylight getting our equipments loaded. Then they took us to our train and you should see those cars! The troops travel in box cars over here and a box car is just about as big as a couple of packing boxes put together and set on wheels. You could put about three of them into one of ours. That, certainly, was some ride, but we all enjoyed it. We crossed the Alps and it would be impossible for me to tell you of the scenery, except to say it was grand. We stopped three times a day at Red Cross stations and had hot coffee and in all the large towns there were large crowds at the stations to see us. Some very pretty girls came around the train and pinned flowers on us and gave us postal cards already addressed to themselves, trying to make us understand that they wanted us to write them, so they could have a souvenir from an American soldier. We formed ranks at —, Italy, and marched through the streets with an Italian band leading us. The streets were crowded and the people even climbed on the house tops to get a good look at the "American Solat." At last we reached our destination and worked all day moving our equipment back into the hills where we were to stay for a while.

I have now gone just about as far as I can on this "newsie stuff" you asked for, so I guess you will have to wait until we can see each other again to get more. I am writing this on my bunk with an old newspaper to write on, so please excuse the scrawl.

Drop me a line now and then as I like to receive letters, even if I don't like to write them. Bye, bye. Lovingly,

GEO. S. MIDDLEKAUFF,
Field Hospital 331, American Ex.
Forces, Italy, A. P. O. 901.
Love to mother and the rest.

AUTO COLLISION

An auto collision at the intersection of Brand and Colorado boulevards Tuesday morning varied the monotony of traffic on that thoroughfare. A. F. Howard of Glendale, going south on Brand in a Ford, and W. A. Lucas of Los Angeles, going west on Colorado in a heavy car, each thought the other was going to stop and each put on speed. They came together and the Lucas car overturned the Ford. No damage beyond nerve strain and scratching of the cars resulted and, as Chief Herald stated, "both men were able to proceed to port under their own steam."

ARMY SCRAP BOOKS

SCHOOL CHILDREN CAN UTILIZE
VACATION IN MAKING THEM
FOR SOLDIERS

The Junior Red Cross of Glendale has been asked to make several hundred scrap books for the soldiers convalescing in hospitals, and it was suggested that the collection and arrangement of this material be undertaken in the following manner:

Students of High School classes in English and of the 6th, 7th and 8th grades in Elementary Schools may, as a definite part of each month's class work, select suitable stories and articles from current magazines. These, in turn, may be arranged in booklet form by Elementary groups. The booklets should measure 9x12 inches. The cover should be of stiff, light-colored paper, heavier than wrapping paper because these books are to be used by soldiers in hospitals abroad and will be subjected to much handling. The cover should be made in one piece and should be fastened with clips put through the body of the scrap book and the back of the cover. If ornamented with a bright, cheerful picture it will be very attractive.

The body of the scrap book is to consist of one short story of nine or ten pages, or two short stories of four or five pages each. Much judgment should be used in the selection of the stories. Only those which will be of interest to our boys should be used. It has been found that the soldiers appreciate live articles on current topics as well as fiction, but the booklet must not be too heavy or bulky.

Every one is asked to assist in this work by saving for the schools all magazines containing reading matter of interest to our boys.

The following kinds of feathers are wanted by the Salvage Department: Turkey, colored chicken, pure white chicken, white domestic duck, white wild goose, gray wild goose, gray domestic goose, gray domestic duck, gray wild duck.

Keep different kinds of feathers in separate sacks. For instance, don't mix white and colored feathers, and don't mix turkey, chicken, duck and goose feathers. Second-hand feathers from old pillows, etc., are not wanted.

FUNERAL OF MAY CHASE

Funeral services were held over the body of May Chase, beloved wife of Dr. Raymond E. Chase and mother of Shirley Chase, Monday morning at the Chase residence on Chestnut street, where the beautiful Episcopal service for the dead was read. Owing to official orders, the service was strictly private and attendance confined to members of the family and immediate relatives, but many beautiful letters of sympathy have been received by the doctor from the many friends to whom Mrs. Chase was dear, as she had a very large circle of acquaintances and was greatly beloved by all who knew her. There was a wealth of floral tributes including very beautiful pieces from Chapter L. of the P. E. O., of which she was president last year and secretary this year, and from the Tuesday Afternoon Club, of which she was a past president. Numerous other offerings testified to the big place she filled in the hearts of the community. Interment was made in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

LOSES OLD FRIEND

City Clerk Sherer has been saddened by the death of his old friend, Mrs. Reese, wife of V. W. Reese, at her home in Los Angeles. The Reeses were residents of Glendale at one time and built the house on Louise street next to the Baptist church, which was afterwards occupied by the Chappells. She was probably the oldest woman telegraph operator in the United States, was one of the first to learn the Morse characters by sound and followed the art until a few years ago. Her husband, also a telegraph operator, is still in the service of the Western Union, by whom he has been employed for the greater part of fifty years, and he has many interesting things to tell of his experiences, particularly during his life in Washington, D. C. Mr. Reese may return to Glendale to live.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS

Physicians of the Examining Board examined about fifty registrants Tuesday morning at the headquarters of the Exemption Board, which is anxious all men should thoroughly understand that they must undergo a physical examination before they can be inducted into any branch of the service and also understand that examinations at the offices of the physicians are prohibited under the new law.

FLOWERS STANDS FIRM

Montaville Flowers, the Republican nominee for Congress in the Ninth district, last night made the following statement in reference to President Wilson's remarkable appeal for the election of a Democratic Congress.

"A few weeks ago the President of the United States told Congress that 'politics is adjourned.'

"On Saturday last he issued the most partisan political document that has ever come from the White House.

"A few weeks ago the President assailed the candidacy of Vardeman of Mississippi, Hardwick of Georgia, Slayden of Texas and Huddleston of Alabama on their war records which were better than that of Mr. Randall, in order to keep these men out of Congress.

"Now he has endorsed the candidacy of Mr. Randall for re-election, approving of his service to the country.

"These two political reverses of Presidential policy plunging to the depths of partisan politics will be forever historic. The people will disregard both recommendations as they should, and will defeat their purpose and then as Americans we shall go right on supporting the Government perfecting our Democracy as before.

"No political dictator can deliver the vote of the American people out of hand. The people of the Ninth Congressional district love liberty and democracy and freedom to express their own judgment and must disagree with the President on both of his utterances. Democrats and Republicans alike will continue the campaign upon the real questions of the times and the fitness of the candidates. I shall be elected on the merits of the case."

LEGISLATION BY GUESSWORK

Once more the people of the State of California will be called on to legislate haphazard by means of the ballot. This time there will be twenty-five amendments and propositions to settle at the polls.

Theoretically the initiative and referendum are perfection; practically the twin methods deserve to be designated a joint failure. The text of the measures and arguments offered for and against them fills 58 pages of fine print, in the pamphlet which each voter will receive before election day. The time for their study will be short. Busy people cannot give that time; the idle or indifferent will not give it. The fate of the propositions, with very few exceptions, will be settled by voters who on election morning have not definitely made up their minds as to the merits of the different matters.

Invoking the initiative and referendum is too easy a proceeding to insure the best results. Eight per cent of the voters of the state can put any sort of measure on the ballot; and a matter is dubious indeed if it cannot secure that many voters who will sign merely to oblige a friend or for some other insufficient reason.

If the constitutional provision were changed to require not less than fifteen or twenty per cent of the voters as a means of getting a proposition on the ballot it would be some guarantee of the merit of the matter proposed, and it would prevent the ticket being burdened with trash year after year. For example, the single tax proposition will be on the ballot again this time. It was beaten in 1912 by 74,683; in 1914, by 108,016; in 1916, by 316,201. Yet in spite of these decisive evidences that the people of California do not want such experimenting, it once more bobs up, helping to distract attention from other matters. There is nothing to prevent the same fantastic dream coming forward at every succeeding election while the constitution permits, just as it has at every election since the initiative was adopted.

The referendum principle cannot be argued against, but its application needs revision to make it conform to common sense and public welfare.

The Health Insurance measure is as striking an abuse of the initiative as Single Tax. This measure is forced upon the ballot by professional politicians. The people of California never heard of it, did not want it and do not need it and yet this professional class of "non-essentials" drag it to this country from Germany and other European countries and try to force it on to an unsuspecting public ostensibly for the dear public's benefit, but in reality to create numberless jobs for the non-essential politician and the public pays the bill under the initiative for something it never asked for.—Inyo Register.

AMERICANISM

Chicago has unveiled a statue of Alexander Hamilton in its municipal front yard. There ought to be monuments in every great American city to Hamilton, to Jefferson, to Franklin, to Madison, to Thomas Paine. And these monuments should be handsome ones that will attract the eye and emphasize the lesson of America to all Americans. Our children should grow up in an America that gives evidence of America, her history, her ideals, her achievements and her meaning.

Some of our cities have erected memorials of European worthies, heroes, emancipators, poets, musicians, artists and writers. These bear witness to the cosmopolitanism of our sympathies. But what our nationalism requires is testimony to the genius and the performances of the United States.

Time enough has gone by to rid us of the partisan prejudices which regard Hamilton as an aristocrat or Jefferson as a demagogue, Franklin as a freethinker or Paine as an infidel. What has been preserved of these American founders has not been their faults and fantasies, but their truths and virtues.

Our national government is neither Hamiltonian nor Jeffersonian, but a compromise and reconciliation of the two schools. Jefferson's views were thought by some to be too extreme, as Hamilton's were doubtless too conservative. But the organic system of our republic is Hamiltonian, as its inspiration and direction are Jeffersonian.

We need instruction in the schools, thorough and sympathetic, concerning America's foundation and formation, so that every child of America, come to manhood and womanhood, will know the organism of the United States and the spirit by which it is energized. Such popular knowledge and appreciation will acquaint us with the worth of our own heritage and will help us to correct faults and to avoid trouble. Given a generation of real instruction in the principles of this republic, and there will no longer be danger of the desiccation of our nationalism. Study of the writings of Hamilton, Madison, Jefferson, Franklin, Paine, will afford our people a pillar of cloud by day and a fire by night by which to direct their steps.

Moreover, the subject of study is intrinsically worth the pains. Politically, the United States leads the world. In America has been produced the best exposition of the principles of republican self-government and the best embodiment of them in institutions. Politically we are not required to go to foreign universities. And the claim is not founded upon national self-love, but upon reason and sense.

We need to become American. We are now American in sentiment, as the was has demonstrated. We need to know why we are American, to understand with our heads what Americanism is. One reason why Theodore Roosevelt and other presidents have proved so convincing to the citizens of this and the past generation, has been because, like Abraham Lincoln and Daniel Webster, they have been so studious and understanding of the beginnings of this republic.

Every boy and girl in the primary schools ought to be as familiar with the names of Franklin, Paine, Jefferson, Madison and Hamilton as with the names of Washington and Lincoln. Every high school graduate ought to be proficient in the meaning of those reasoners, philosophers, patriots and creators. An ignorant republic is a republic in danger. And a republic that is unacquainted with its own foremost minds is an ignorant republic, no matter what its intelligence and culture.

KEEP DOWN LEGISLATION

In war times and during the period of readjustment is is a good plan to vote down all needless legislation.

In California there are forty to fifty new laws and amendments proposed, all the way from single tax and social insurance to regulating chickens running at large.

In many western states there are important new laws put on the ballot the last few days of the campaign.

For instance in California to admit forty-eight laws to be voted on upon ten days' notice is to make a travesty of democracy.

In Idaho there is a proposition to inaugurate a new constitution that is not needed.

In Utah there is a vicious multiple-tax for mining industries that are already taxed to the limit.

The only amendments or laws to be considered are such as are going to safeguard industries and enable them to meet conditions the war demands.

Y. W. C. A. WAR WORK

By Mrs. Charles H. Toll

The only women's organization that is connected with the United War Drive to be inaugurated on November 11th next, is the Young Women's Christian Association. Our president has expressed in no uncertain terms his approbation of the value of Y. W. C. A. work in carrying on the war. The work of the Y. is now largely that of keeping up the morale of the men and the women engaged in war work. It is the only organization of the seven that concerns itself with the vast and growing army of women workers, who, in their spheres of activity are just as important in winning the war as are the soldiers overseas. For it must be realized that, since the inception of the war, large numbers of men have vacated important positions to enter warfare. These positions have been filled in many cases by women, who are earnestly doing their part, being "the girls behind the men behind the guns."

In this country the "Blue Triangle" (the Y. W. C. A.) has been actively engaged in helpful work for girls and young women for many years; but since the war began, its vast machinery has been specially operating with a distinct view toward winning the war. While it has maintained its former beneficent activities, it has found so much added work to do, that it has taken giant strides in organization work.

It may not be generally known that over a million and a half women workers, who have entered industry as a result of the needs brought about by the war, are now employed by Uncle Sam. At the Bush Terminal, Brooklyn, where are blocks upon blocks of concrete buildings where the chief production of war materials is carried on, are 15,000 women employed. These women do a variety of work. They do office work, inspect the output of various industries, run machinery, polish metals, operate turning-lathes, make gas masks, manufacture uniforms, and assist with medical supplies. In Washington, D. C., 45,000 more women have gathered to take care of the clerical work added by the war. In various cities throughout the U. S. we find the same conditions on a smaller scale—wherever war industries have sprung up, there we shall find women in industry in large numbers.

It may readily be seen that the coming together of such a large number of women in so short a time has made the housing problem a tremendous one. The government soon realized that it must take care of the girls and the women, if it was to continue to be able to rely upon their needed help. It was a tremendous task, along with all the other big demands brought about by the war. So the War Department requested the War Work Council of the Y. W. C. A. to take the matter in hand, and provide resources for out-of-work hours for girls and women wherever they are working on government supplies. And that is why the Y. W. C. A. needs the 15 million dollars that is to be appropriated to them after the United Drive is over.

In Washington alone, a hotel, two vocational homes and a Country Club have been supplied for the women workers by the War Work Council of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. An old colonial mansion has been turned into a cafeteria for the women, with rest-rooms and writing-rooms at hand. A girls' school has been turned into a home for the women war-workers.

The Y. W. C. A. has a recreation program for the thousands of women workers employed in the 22 munitions cantonments now being built by the government. "Greater efficiency for the worker" is the excuse for the Y. W. C. A. going into these cantonments. They

Personals

Dr. R. E. Chase is now well enough to be out.

Mrs. Adelaide Imler says her daughter reports that all the students and professors at the State University are going around in masks.

The J. W. Ashtons, who have been living on El Bonita avenue, have moved to the Coghlan house on the corner of Gardena and Cerritos avenues.

Mrs. Leavitt of 212 South Orange
on Tuesday entertained two cousins, Mesdames Winslow and Rose Wheeler, of Los Angeles, who spent the day with her.

Two members of the C. A. Perry family at 111 North Louise street are down with the "flu," but are getting along nicely and will probably soon be up again.

The meeting which was to have been held by the Senior Women's Bible class of the Baptist church with Mrs. Doxey, Thursday afternoon, has been called off.

Guy Pettit, who has been living in the Fairchild Apartments, was taken to Thornycroft Hospital Tuesday night for treatment for the "flu." He is quite ill but is not considered to be in a dangerous condition.

Miss Sadie Zeigler, niece of Rev.
and Mrs. C. R. Norton, who has been spending several months in San Pedro, is again at the Norton home and was one of the guests at the birthday celebration on Sunday.

Miss Fern Cook of Hawthorne street reports the receipt of a card announcing the safe arrival of Lieutenant Don Packer overseas. The Lieutenant is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Stephen Packer of this city. He is in the heavy coast artillery corps.

William Renshaw, who is with the Student Army Training Corps at Throop and who has recovered from an attack of "flu," was given a furlough of a few hours last Sunday and came home and spent it with his family in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Lang of Central avenue are moving this week to 229 Virginia street, Eagle Rock. They make the change to secure a more convenient location for Mr. Lang, who is in the employ of the Standard Oil Co. They have sold their Central avenue home.

Mrs. P. A. Wells received a letter from her son Neal yesterday in which he informed her that he had been quite sick of influenza but was well over it. His camp is a small one in a very healthy situation and they have not suffered a great deal from the epidemic. He is a member of Troop 1, 8th Cavalry, stationed at Presidio, Texas.

Inquiries this morning brought the information that John A. Logan, cashier of the First National Bank of Tropico, is making an excellent recovery from an attack of "flu," and that Arthur Campbell, brother of the president of the bank, who was so ill in a Santa Maria hospital that his wife was taken to his bedside by Dan Campbell last Sunday, is also so far recovered that Mrs. Arthur Campbell was able to leave him.

Kemper Campbell of this city is now in New York City at work on a big case. The case was tried and won in the California courts by Mr.
Campbell in association with Francis J. Heney and then carried to the Federal Courts. Mr. Campbell and Mr.
Heney were summoned to New York
to try the case there and will probably be detained until the middle of November. Mrs. Campbell says if her husband isn't home before the first of December there will be no
Thanksgiving for her.

Three families, the Berrys of Orange street, the Springers of Oak street and the Cazars of Elk street,
motored to Topanga Canyon Sunday,
where they spent the day and enjoyed a picnic dinner. Miss Millie Rowe of Orange street was a guest in the party. The members of the Ca-zar family are comparatively new residents who came to Glendale when school opened from Long Beach,
where houses had become very scarce
on account of the demand by employees in the ship yards.

Mrs. F. M. Pixley of Lomita avenue was greatly surprised and pleased to receive a call from her nephew, Loyal Dillon, who walked in upon her last Friday when she had no idea
he was in this part of the country.
He has been in the navy for five years in active service and was one of the lookouts on the first boat that carried U. S. troops overseas. He has had several promotions and is an expert rifleman and torpedo man, also an expert gunner. He is just a boy, Mrs. Pixley says, but twenty-one years of age, but has been made instructor at the Submarine Base because he understands the torpedo from the ground up and is acquainted with all the steps of its manufacture. He is a son of Mrs. Pixley's sister and he and Guy Pixley are the only boys in the family.

Mrs. Albert Gabaig reports that letters have just been received from her brother-in-law, Louis Gabaig, who enlisted early in the war in the cavalry, that he is now a French interpreter for the army in a small town in France. He and his brother are of French ancestry and speak the language well. He writes that the boys have fine things to eat and a good place to sleep, and he is well contented with his soldier lot.

Tuesday evening the neighbors of Mrs. H. P. Courtney on Orange street were entertained by a fine stringed orchestra, a social organization of the church of which she is pastor, which gave her a pleasant surprise visit. It included violins, cellos and drums, and all the members reside in Los Angeles. Mrs. Hatch is the director and the list of players includes Thomas Evans, Sr., and Thomas Evans,
Jr., Messrs. Gear and Dyer and Miss Ather. Their program consisted almost entirely of patriotic numbers.

Rev. Higbee of the Broadway Christian Church, Los Angeles, will soon take up his residence in Glendale in a new house which is being built on Louise street just south of the wash.
He has been living in Hollywood and has investigated the merits of various suburbs. He has decided that Glendale fills the bill exactly and as his church is a downtown one with no parsonage in connection, no objections have been raised to his placing his home here. He is a great friend of Mrs. Buchen, who persuaded him to visit the Jewel City. She is a great booster for Glendale and he proved as susceptible to its charms as she expected he would.

SERIOUSLY INJURED BY GAS

While workmen were engaged at fumigating fruit trees on the J. L.
Mcomber place at 1530 East Broadway at about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, the gas escaped in such quantities that it resulted in causing the death of a horse and almost suffocating the workmen. Dr. Harrower was called to care for the men.

SIMPLE LUNCHEON

Mrs. W. L. Andrews of Pioneer drive entertained a few ladies at a simple, Hooverized mid-day luncheon on Tuesday, the guest of honor being Mrs. W. W. Ramsay, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club. Covers were also laid for Mesdames C. B.
Guitard and G. H. Rowe of Glendale and Mrs. Joe Gerber of Los Angeles.
A very pleasant social afternoon of music and conversation followed the luncheon.

EASTERN STAR PARTY

The Eastern Star card party and dance which was to have been held Saturday evening has been postponed.
November 16 has been tentatively set for the affair, but further announcement will be made of the date.

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles.

In the Matter of the Application for Change of Names of John Gray-
bill Hunchberger, Edith Margaret Hunchberger, Evangeline Beaupre
Hunchberger and Virginia Edith Hunchberger, Petitioners.

Upon filing of the petition of John Graybill Hunchberger, Edith Margaret Hunchberger, Evangeline Beaupre
Hunchberger and Virginia Edith Hunchberger, in the above entitled court this day, for the changing of the names of petitioners from that of John Graybill Hunchberger to John

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

This being the regular prayer meeting night, the pastor suggests the following for a few moments of meditation. "Make thy prayer unto Him, and He shall hear thee." Job 22:27. Aching hearts are on every side of us. Smiles are too thin a veil to hide them. Flippant remarks can not conceal them. To say sin and sorrow do not exist, is false.
Wealth and position can not stop pain and poverty. Most people are in need of cheer, and as a rule this is imparted by the help that every right-thinking, true-hearted person can give.

In many a richly furnished house
there is a shadow cast by the same sorrow and sickness that has stopped for a season with blighting touch in the home of poverty. The human family is a great household. The chasm which is supposed to divide us are imaginary—not real. In weakness, in need, in sadness, in appreciation of sympathy and in response to love, we are all quite alike. We need then to pray one for another, especially those with whom we differ.

Prayer is our speech to God. When we read the Bible, God speaks to us;
when we pray we speak to God.
Prayer is presenting God's promise, endorsed by our faith. Prayer is the pitcher which brings the water from the brook. Prayer is the barometer of the soul. Prayer is the gift of the knees. Prayer is the key that opens heaven, and faith is the hand that turns it. Prayer is the cry of faith to the ear of mercy.
Let us not forget to pray for the sick and sorrowing. Let us pray earnestly for speedy relief from the epidemic which so seriously faces our people. Let us pray for our country and our allies in these days when the world is looking for a righteous peace. "Men ought always to pray
and not to faint."

DR. ROY V. HOGUE, DENTIST,
in the First National Bank Building, desires to announce change of telephone service, new number to be Glendale 888 (eight double eight).

Y. W. C. A. WAR WORK

have provided military drill for the workers (with physical development as the object); Service Corps for Red Cross and similar work; Saturday afternoon hikes; swimming; picnics and other good times. The worker returns to her arduous and unusual duties with renewed vigor as a result of the pleasing relaxation.

As we are quite near one of the large camps of the U. S., we are perhaps more or less familiar with the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House. There are 91 such in the U. S. with three on the Pacific Coast. 13 are for colored troops. The Hostess House is the connecting link between the soldier and his home. It is here that the wife, the mother the children and the sweetheart can come and be with the loved one, while on visit to the Camp. A Cafeteria in connection with the Hostess House enables the visitor to be longer with her soldier boy. The Nursery takes care of the babies and allows the soldier father and the mother to visit undisturbed. The Rest-room enables the visitor to gain composure before going out, it may be, to make the final parting with the soldier going far away.

Early in the war, French women cabled to the Y. W. C. A. for help. The answer was 64 war workers at once, with many more there at the present time. The Blue Triangle conducts social and recreation work for French women munition workers; for French women in government employ; for Americans who serve in social rooms; for nurses at Red Cross Huts at 14 Base Hospitals; in the Hostess Houses of Paris and Tours; they conduct Hostess Houses for American Signal Corps girls (the telephone operators engaged in sending war messages for the army); and maintain Hotel Petrograd in Paris for American war workers.

In this article I have necessarily omitted some of the very important work being carried on by the Y. W. C. A. I have not mentioned the special aid that they offer to the foreign born in their home tongues, nor the centers recently established for Russian women in Russia; nor the Girls' Clubs and Recreation Centers where men in uniform are entertained socially, nor the work of the Patriotic League.

Two of the slogans of the Y. W. C. A. bear their message perhaps quite fully and briefly. They are: "Serving at Our Country's Call" and "We Believe in Girls Everywhere," with accent on the last word.

Were it not for the financial help that is given each year by the wealthiest men and women in the U. S., I doubt if the 15 millions of dollars to be received by the Y. W. C. A. would be at all adequate to carry on their work. But so great is the appeal to persons of all religions made by this organization which cares for young women without respect to their creed, that they have been enabled thus far to finance all their splendid undertakings. They are asking, moreover, the interest of all people in their work, as they realize that the public sentiment is a great help in accomplishing the good they are striving to do.

WOULD UNITE CONFERENCES

Uniting of the Central California and Northern California Conferences of the Seventh-day Adventists into one large field was recommended by the Pacific Union Conference committee of that denomination at a meeting which just closed at Oakland, Cal. A meeting of delegates from all the churches of the two fields will be held in the near future, and it is expected to make the union effective January 1, 1919.

The Central California Conference now consists of the counties of Tulare, Madera, Fresno, Kings, Mariposa, Merced and Kern north of the Tehachapi mountains. The Northern California Conference consists of the counties of Stanislaus, Tuolumne, San Joaquin, Calaveras, Amador, Sacramento, Yolo, Sutter, Yuba, Colusa, Glenn, Butte, Tehama, Shasta, Siskiyou, Alpine, Eldorado, Placer, Nevada, Sierra and Plumas.

The present headquarters of the Northern California Conference is Lodi, and that of the Central California Conference, Fresno. There is a possibility that the headquarters of the united conference will be established at Stockton or Sacramento, although the delegates may decide to adopt Lodi as the headquarters for the enlarged field.

The combining of the two conferences, which is regarded largely as a war conservation measure for the saving of administration machinery, will eliminate one staff of conference officers, and enable the denomination to spend in evangelistic work the amount of money it has been expending for administration. A movement is also on foot to combine the California Conference, with headquarters in Oakland, with the Northwestern California Conference, with headquarters in Santa Rosa.
